

Partner resource pack

Information and communication support for partners.

Overview

Learning as a family develops confident, lifelong learners who are likely to be happier, healthier, longer living and wealthier. At Campaign for Learning we are dedicated to enabling social change by empowering people through lifelong learning.

We've developed the National Centre for Family Learning as an essential free support service for all professionals who work with families. Designed as a supportive association and network of like-minded family learning practitioners, we aim to increase the impact of the incredible work already being done across the UK.

The best part is, it's free to join.

Member benefits

All members get instant access to a place to unite as a sector, share best practice and inspire families to learn together. Plus:

- free high quality family learning resources from trusted partners and Campaign for Learning – developed through our own projects and programmes
- Articles and opinions sharing best practice, case studies, and the latest thinking about family learning
- free practitioner training opportunities and exclusive paid for events and CPD

Opportunities to network with other family learning professionals, develop new partnerships and share best practice as a community.

Who can join?

Everyone who works with families, children or young people can join the National Centre for Family Learning!

Whilst all our members work in organisations that are very different, they share a common commitment to creating positive change. Our members range from employees at a pottery café that hosts family art sessions, to a local librarian with story time sessions all the way through to local authorities with termly family learning programmes. Our members work in:

- Adult Education
- Arts organisations
- Charities
- Communities
- Early Years
- Further Education
- Health settings
- Heritage venues
- Libraries
- Local authorities
- Museums
- Schools
- Visitor attractions
- Zoos

Spreading the word with your colleagues and partners

We'd love your support in spreading awareness and encouraging all family learning practitioners to take advantage of our free membership. We've put together some messaging which can be shared in your newsletters, team meetings, social media and other relevant channels.

Messaging examples to use within your communications:

Website / intranet / newsletter

We support and are members of the National Centre for Family Learning.

The National Centre for Family Learning is a free association for professionals working with families in any learning context supporting the development of children, young people and families. You can join for free and enjoy the benefits of a supportive association and network of like-minded family learning practitioners.

Join here for free

Get extra support from the National Centre for Family Learning.

With news, resources, training opportunities and networking events that help you to continue growing your practice, the National Centre for Family Learning is invested in developing space for practitioners within the sector to connect, develop and unite.

Join here for free

Boost your practice with the National Centre for Family Learning.

The National Centre for Family Learning brings together people who work in all different settings to share best practice, develop relationships and inspire families to learn. Join now for free membership and gain access to all National Centre for Family Learning resources, articles and events.

Join here for free

Join the National Centre for Family Learning today.

All members get instant access to a place that aims to unite us as a sector, to share best practice and inspire families to learn together. Plus everyone that joins gets:

- free high quality family learning resources from trusted partners and developed through our funded projects and programmes.
- free practitioner training opportunities and exclusive paid for events and CPD.
- Opportunities to network with other family learning professionals, develop new partnerships and share best practice as a community.

Join here for free

Social media

Twitter	We're proud to be advocates for the National Centre for Family Learning @FamilyLearning_. Become a member and get the benefits of a supportive association and network of like-minded family learning practitioners. https://nationalcentreforfamilylearning.org/
Twitter	Did you know you can join @FamilyLearning_ and get updates on free resources to support you in developing your practice and inspiring families to learn together. https://nationalcentreforfamilylearning.org/
Twitter	We're spreading the word about @FamilyLearning_. A free association for people who believe in developing a culture of learning within families. The centre is dedicated to creating space for practitioners to develop and unite. https://nationalcentreforfamilylearning.org/
LinkedIn	We're proud to be advocates for the @National Centre for Family Learning. Become a member and get the benefits of a supportive association and network of like-minded family learning practitioners. Some resources available from the centre that we think you'll like include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • STEM resource pack with over 30 activities and tips • Settling in Britain resource pack • The digital learning resource pack Become a member to download these resources for free. https://nationalcentreforfamilylearning.org/
LinkedIn	Did you know you can follow the @National Centre for Family Learning on LinkedIn and get updates on free resources to support you in developing your practice, insightful sector news and articles and lots more to help you to inspire families to learn together. Some recent articles are well worth a read including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • How to develop storytelling sessions that help the families you work with • How to Communicate Effectively with Parents • Fostering resilience in children - what is the role of the family? Follow on LinkedIn and become a member here: https://nationalcentreforfamilylearning.org/
LinkedIn	We recommend joining the @National Centre for Family Learning for extra support as a family practitioner. Join and get access to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • free resources • events and training • industry news and updates • networking opportunities that help you to continue growing your practice. It's free to join https://nationalcentreforfamilylearning.org/